December 2018

Dear Members:

Founded in 1980, the Colorado Gerontological Society celebrates this, our 39th Annual Meeting. I am filled with a sense of pride and satisfaction as I look back over my years of service as President of this fine organization.

Confucius said that “the man who moves a mountain begins by carrying away small stones.” So it is with the Society. Over the years the services offered, the initiatives undertaken and the amount of good work done by the Society has expanded, making its’ programs and services a part of the lives of the senior community throughout the entire state of Colorado.

I have worked in the field of aging for more than 20 years in the Denver area as a community liaison in health care. Much of my work has focused on bringing home care to Medicare beneficiaries. The networking and relationships that I have built over the years working with The Society have given me the opportunity bring quality of care to seniors and to help them to stay in their own homes longer.

A special “thank you” to all of the volunteers who have worked with the Society over the past year including: The Schwabies for Good (from Charles Schwab), Xcel Energy, PharmD Students University of Colorado School of Pharmacy, Holiday Basket volunteers, Pro Bona Challenge Volunteers (Charles Schwab), Make A Difference Day audiologists, dentists, and optometrists, Salute to Seniors Planning Committee, Salute to Seniors Volunteers, Forney Museum of Transportation, Advance Care Planning Advisory Committee and Partners, and most of all, the Board of Directors.

The Society is continuing to implement the Strategic Plan that was approved in 2018. As part of our vision to expand our statewide presence, our work in 2018 included working in 21 rural counties (and 8 urban counties) providing health literacy, providing Medicare updates in 5 rural counties (and 7 urban counties), and offering technical assistance and training of assisted living residences in 6 rural counties (and 7 urban counties).

The Society strives to provide leadership and training to those working in the field, and to continue to serve seniors and their families who are in need of services.

It is my pleasure to continue to serve as President of this outstanding organization in 2019 and I look forward to continuing to work with the Society in the future. It is our goal to continue to serve as a trusted source of information and to serve the needs of seniors in metro Denver and surrounding communities. Thank you for your support.

Respectfully submitted,

2018 AWARDS

PIioneer in aging
Award

Bernard A. Poskus, JD
Retired,
Poskus, Caton & Klein, PC
Denver

Bernard A Poskus attended University of Akron School of Law in Akron, Ohio. Graduating in 1978 he started his law career in Illinois working for the Legal Aid Society.

From 1981-1985, he worked for Colorado Legal Services in Grand Junction. As part of the national initiatives to implement the nursing home ombudsman program designed to give residents in nursing homes a voice to deal with their complaints, Poskus hired a half-time paralegal to visit residents in nursing homes and help solve their issues.

In 1985, he moved to the Denver office of Colorado Legal Services to head up the consumer unit. As an afterthought, he was asked to supervise the “senior unit”, one day a week. As the older adult population grew, so too did the older adults caseload.

Poskus is responsible for a monumental court decision, in which he successfully argued for the Medicaid Income Trust in which an individual who makes too much money to qualify for Medicaid can establish a Trust, put all of their income in the Trust, and then qualify for Medicaid. The case is used by the federal government and states to determine Medicaid eligibility for those who are over income.

Although he enjoyed his work at Colorado Legal Services, with the election of President George H. W. Bush in 1989, the nation was poised to reduce legal services for the poor and vulnerable. With that political reality, Poskus opened a private practice doing Medicaid and estate planning, wills and trusts. He retired in 2016.

Poskus served on the Board of the Alzheimer’s Association for more than 20 years. He met annually with congressional representatives advocating for more funding for Alzheimer’s research and training.

The Society is pleased to present the Pioneer in Aging Award to Bernard A Poskus.

Young Professional
in Aging

Nanae Ito, MSW
Director of Case Management
Senior Support Services
Denver, CO

Nanae Ito earned a Master’s Degree in Social Work from the University of Denver in Spring 2017. Her primary area of focus was aging services and policy. During her field work in her second year of study at University of Denver, she spent one day a week at the Colorado Gerontological Society as we launched the Advance Care Planning program.

In November 2017, she joined Senior Support Services as the Director of Case Management where staff work tirelessly each day to find services for some of the most vulnerable older adults in Denver.

Her Department provides one-to-one counseling and help to secure substance abuse services, housing and shelter needs, and benefits such as Old Age Pension, Medicaid, and SNAP.

She received her undergraduate degree in Sociology and Political Science at the University of Alaska in Fairbanks.

Before coming to Colorado for graduate school, she spent five years as a hospice volunteer in Fairbanks. There she developed a passion for working with older adults in such areas as hospice care, community support, advance care planning and the need to ensure dignity and quality of life for those who are at the end of life.

In her current job, she enjoys getting to know the client and listening to their personal story. She feels it is utmost important to be “present” when working with clients understanding their story, their pain and their joy. She knows that she can’t solve everyone’s problem, but she knows that she can be “present” for everyone with whom she works.

The Society is pleased to present the Young Professional in Aging Award to Nanae Ito.
Matthew Carlston, DDS is a licensed general dentist practicing at Comfort Dental of Englewood in Denver. He completed his undergraduate studies at Utah State University in 2000 and his dental studies at Temple University School of Dentistry in 2004.

In his dental practice, Matt is a recipient of the Low Income Senior Dental grants through the State of Colorado. Through these grants, Matt is able to provide free or low cost dental work to individuals over age 60 who are not eligible for Medicaid. He has been involved with this program since 2013.

Since 2005, in addition to managing his own grant program, Matt frequently takes referrals from The Society of cases that are complex and difficult. Oftentimes they don’t have a payer source, but he graciously sees those patients with the ultimate goal of making them pain free and able to smile again.

Since 2004, he has participated in Comfort Dental’s Annual Care Day giving free dentistry to those in need on December 24.

Matt completed his church service mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Costa Rica from 1996-1998. He has done international mission trips since 2006 performing humanitarian dental care. He has worked in Mexico, Guatemala, Peru, and Honduras. He began the Improving Tomorrow Foundation in 2013 to serve people in underserved countries.

He is married to Callie and they have three children, Luke 17, Charles 15, and Kate 12.

The Society is pleased to present the Al Berger Community Service in Aging Award to Matt Carlston, DDS for his work with low to middle income older adults who need extra special dental services.

Al Berger was a past president of The Society who volunteered many hours to lead the long term care insurance initiative and to improve the quality of life efforts following the passage of OBRA in 1987.

Nicholas C. Peterson, MA
Motivational Speaker
Parkinson’s Disease Survivor
Aurora, CO

Nicholas C Peterson earned his Bachelor’s (1972) and Master’s (1978) degrees in English from Arizona State University.

As a motivational speaker, he has worked in 27 states and Canada doing keynotes and workshops on diversity with an emphasis on disability issues for industry and government agencies.

Nick describes himself as “an expert who uses the English language as a tool for effective communication, both written and spoken”. He says “I can help you take a speech or presentation that’s informative and make it informative, entertaining, and memorable.” He specializes “in using stories and appropriate humor so the audience will leave talking about what they have learned and . . . want more”.

He was a spokesperson for the United Parkinson Foundation of Chicago. He is also active with the Parkinson’s Association of the Rockies here in Denver. He worked with a team of individuals who lived with Parkinson’s bringing to his audience the need to “communicate” with those who suffer from the disease. His approach “if you don’t know what they need . . . Ask them . . . . Most of the time they can tell you what they need . . . and how they need you to help them.”

He has three publications: “Develop the Skills of a Raconteur”, “Real-life Training for Home Health Aides” and “Imagination - Our Secret Ally”.

Although he has had Parkinson’s Disease for many years, he continued to work, including training administrators in the assisted living course offered by The Society.

The Society is pleased to present the Al Berger Community Service in Aging Award to the Nick Peterson for bringing humor to our world.

Al Berger was a past president of The Society who volunteered many hours to lead the long term care insurance initiative and to improve the quality of life efforts following the passage of OBRA in 1987.
Jeanette is the former Director of Aging and Adult Services at Colorado Department of Human Services. As the Director, she was responsible for services to those 60 and over. Specifically she was responsible for programs including the Older Americans Act and State Services for Seniors, Old Age Pension, Home Care programs, and Adult Protective Services.

Jeanette worked for more than 30 years for the State of Colorado. She has a thorough understanding of the regulatory process and how the programs which she managed affect the lives of “real people”.

She is a graduate of Colorado State University in the class of 1980 with a specialty in communication disorders and psychology.

In her retirement, she has become very active with the Colorado Senior Lobby as a volunteer. She is currently the Secretary. She co-chairs the Legislative Committee and leads the CSL Capitol Gang.

The Capitol Gang meets at the legislature and works with older adults who want to learn more about advocacy and working with legislators to change the laws that impact senior programs. She believes that playing a role in senior politics is rewarding and has many benefits for older adults.

She also is leading a fundraising effort to raise $1000 for Pancreatic Cancer Action Network.

Her favorite quotes are “Don’t ever let anyone take your dignity from you, for those who try are not worthy of your friendship”. And she has another “You have to love yourself before you can love anyone else”.

The Society is pleased to present the Al Berger Community Service Award to Jeanette Hensley for her ongoing work in the community.

Julie Kraft has been the owner and administrator of Kraft Home since 1981. As a young mother, she worked as a nurse in long term care. However, due to health conditions of her children, she found herself unable to continue in full time employment outside the home.

Knowing that she wanted to keep working and helping older people, she started a home business caring for older adults who needed assistance with meals, medications, bathing and other personal care. In 1981, prior to any rules or legislative oversight, she opened Kraft Home to serve those individuals who needed help, but were not eligible to receive care in a nursing home.

In her 37 years of providing assisted living services to the Denver area, she has served 792 residents. The longest resident in her home lived there for 23 years.

Today she specializes in serving those hard-to-place individuals who bring a unique personality to her home and those who just need a special place to “call home”. She has an extraordinary skill in getting most everybody to trust her and to allow her or her staff to meet their needs. “She says she has loved every minute of making a home for others in her home”.

She made the business a family business. Today her children are grown. She still relies on her children, the grandchildren, and other family members to help in the business.

She has successful helped one son operate one of the homes, but she is never “too far away” to provide the ongoing oversight and supervision to help him and his residents.

She has been involved in all of the major rule re-writes of assisted living - sometimes more active than others.

Accepting a position in 1989, she is the longest serving member of the Board of Directors of The Society.

The Society is pleased to present the Eugene Dawson Leadership Award in Aging to Julie Kraft.

Eugene Dawson was the first president of The Society from 1980-1982. His leadership has helped to bring increased awareness and recognition to the field of gerontology. The award recognizes elders who continue to work in
The Corporate Award in Aging was established to recognize businesses and organizations that support the field of aging with leadership, community service, and improving the quality of life for older adults through their agency mission.
Andrea Mendez Colmenares
Fort Collins, CO
Colorado State University - Fort Collins
Graduate of Professional Degree
Molecular, Cellular and Integrative Neurosciences
Expected Graduation Date May 2022

Andrea Mendez Colmenares is a medical doctor from Venezuela who is currently finishing her graduate studies at Colorado State University. After graduate school, she is planning to study neurology and the elderly.

Andrea is planning to dedicate her career to study age-related disorders and help the elderly with dementia. As more people are suffering from age-related diseases that affect the brain, the future of neurology lies in the development of interventions that delay or prevent progressive neurodegenerative diseases. As a medical doctor, she brings to this area of research an overall understanding of the relationship of medicine, neurology, and brain functioning.

In Venezuela, she has studied the process of aging and the effect of chronic diseases such as hypertension on the development of neurological disorders.

She currently works in the BRAIN Laboratory to better understand the neural and physiological mechanisms underlying the beneficial effects of lifestyle such as physical activity, aerobic fitness, and occupation complexity on the aging brain and mind. The goal is to help people live healthier lives in the future. Her personal goal is to create interventions to prevent chronic diseases in Venezuela and Latin America.

The Colorado Gerontological Society is proud to present a $1000 Henry Welch Scholarship to Andrea Mendez Colmenares.

Aspen Knackstedt
Wellington, CO
Colorado State University
Bachelor’s Degree
Major: Human Development
Minor: Gerontology and Business Administration
Expected Graduation May 2019

Aspen Knackstedt is currently studying Human Development with a minor in Gerontology and Business administration at Colorado State University.

To date, she has completed four internships working with older adults at Columbine Health Systems, Collinswood, and Golden Peaks. She has worked in activities, provided companionship and family/resident relations, and provider relations.

She is planning a fifth internship in admissions at Centre Avenue Health and Rehab for her final semester in college. Understanding that anxiety is a major concern as part of the admission process in long term care and rehab placement, she hopes to find ways to help residents and families cope better.

Among her skills, Aspen is always able to find something in common with older adults whom she is assigned to work with, whether it be playing music, baking, quilting, animals, building or other shared interests. She finds the personal one-to-one relationships are the most important part of her internships.

She is currently applying for graduate school in Social Work and Business Administration. Her ultimate career goal is to become an assisted living administrator.

The Colorado Gerontological Society is proud to present a $1000 Henry Welch Scholarship to Aspen Knackstedt.

The Henry Welch Scholarships are made possible through the generous support of the members of the Colorado Gerontological Society.

Henry Welch was a founding member of the Board of Directors of the Colorado Gerontological Society. Henry served as the first treasurer of The Society, helped to write the articles of incorporation and the by-laws, and provided parliamentarian support. The Scholarship Fund was established to continue his vision of educating professionals in the field of aging.

For most of his career, Henry served the Denver community and Colorado, at the Metropolitan Council for Community Services, which is now the planning division of Mile High United Way. He excelled at community organization. Henry helped to found the Institute of Gerontology at the University of Denver in 1977 with support from the Administration on Aging.
Organizations are like babies. They must continuously grow and develop. Growth happens in spurts. The Colorado Gerontological Society is in a constant state of growth and development, ever evolving to meet the growing needs of the aging population.

Meeting the needs of Baby Boomers is foremost and now a critical component of future strategic planning. Although Baby Boomers have enjoyed a higher standard of living, many of them will enter retirement less financially stable and in poorer health than their parents.

While more Baby Boomers and their parents are college educated, The Society is expanding our health literacy tools to include multiple modalities for learning to meet the needs of the expanding Medicare/Medicaid population, including written materials, videos, and use of web based applications to manage personal health care.

The Society is expanding our infrastructure to better serve Latino elders, the fastest growing cohort in the aging population. Increasing internal staff capacity with bilingual staff and providing training to the community to increase staff competencies in other agencies is a significant part of the plan.

As part of the strategic plan to increase services to Latino older adults in 2013 and in keeping with the mission, The Society has worked to improve the infrastructure of the organizations serving Latino older adults with training and capacity building programming.

Since 2016, The Society has worked with community agencies to improve advance care planning services to Latino elders. The Society also increased its capacity to better serve Latino elders through the use of staff training, translation and distribution of materials that are culturally and linguistically appropriate, and focused services to meet the needs of Latino elders and their families.

Engaging community professionals at the Denver Hispanic Chamber of Commerce on the importance of Advance Care Planning, Benefits and services.
The Society engaged 427 older adults in rural and urban areas in Colorado on Health Insurance Literacy programming discussing topics such as commonly used health insurance terms, how to effectively interact with doctors and pharmacist and immunizations.

BACKGROUND
With the award of Health Insurance Literacy Project by the Colorado Health Foundation in 2017, The Society provided low-income older adults the opportunity to understand Health First (Medicaid) and Medicare benefits.

ENGAGEMENT IN HEALTH INSURANCE LITERACY
- 162 individuals engaged in one to one health insurance literacy sessions.
- Developed Health Insurance Literacy toolkit in English, Spanish, Chinese with a distribution of 2000 copies.
- Bi-lingual Health Insurance Literacy videos are posted on YouTube channel and social media on Medicare, words to know, and immunizations.
- Reached older adults in 29 counties throughout Colorado.

CAPACITY BUILDING IN THE COMMUNITY
- Established and/or strengthened collaboration with 18 community partners

ENGAGEMENT SATISFACTION FINDINGS
- 72% strongly agreed or agreed that their questions about Medicare/health insurance were answered.
- 94% strongly agreed they were very confident or confident to talk to their health care provider about their health care needs.
- 95% agreed they were very confident or confident to talk to their pharmacist about their medications.
- 85% reported they were very likely or likely to use the Toolkit and materials provided.
- Resident care managers in senior living residents reported increased confidence and use of correct terminology by their residents after round tables.

COMMENTS FROM OLDER ADULTS AND THEIR CAREGIVERS
“This toolkit is really valuable. I will be using it. The print is nice and large and easy to read.”
“I’m the legal guardian and conservator for my grandfather and I have no idea about how to help him and the toolkit is really helpful.”
“It’s great to have this toolkit. My mom has Original Medicare and I don’t know what that means.”
“Last week my grandfather asked me to help him with his benefits and I have no idea where to start. The toolkit is exactly what I need.”
ASSISTED LIVING RULE RE-WRITE

The Society has actively participated in the re-write of the rules that govern assisted living residences to ensure adequate consumer protections, as well as access to services, especially Medicaid beds.

The advocacy for 2018 strategy has included participation in stakeholder meetings, providing written comments, testifying at town hall meetings, providing fact sheets and information to the industry, organizing industry representatives to participate in the public comments, and conducting a survey to determine the impact of the proposed rules on rates.

The new regulations were effective July 1, 2018. The Society increased its training and consultation efforts to continue with its mission of providing training to professionals serving older adults.

- Offered Assisted Living Administrator training consistent with the rules by increasing the curriculum from 30 to 40 hours with a competency examination to meet the new requirements.
- Conducted nine Assisted Living Rules Update trainings for Assisted Living Residence staff throughout the state.
- Increased consultation and technical assistance services for Quality Management Plans, Preparing for a Survey with the New Rules, and Qualified Medication Assistance Person (starting in January 2019).

MEDICARE

The Society’s Executive Director, Eileen Doherty as well as two Board Members, Sara Froelich and Karen Brown traveled to Washington, DC to continue conversations on proposed changes to Medicare Part B and keeping Medicare Part D affordable. They met with Senator Cory Gardner, Senator Michael Bennet, Congresswoman Diana DeGette, Congressman Ed Perlmutter, Congressman Mike Coffman, Congressman Jared Polis, Congressman Ken Buck, and Congressman Scott Tipton or their staff. The Society will continue to be present at the national level, as a strategy, to provide information on the needs of Colorado older adults.

At the local level, The Society provided 19 Medicare Mondays in both rural and urban areas of Colorado to 863 Medicare beneficiaries providing the latest information on premiums, deductibles, and co-pays for Medicare Part A and B and D, as well as information on Medicare Advantage plans that are available in the markets throughout Colorado. The Society partnered with Walgreens Pharmacy providing flu, pneumonia, shingles, and whooping cough vaccines at all of the Medicare Monday locations.

The Society provided individual counseling sessions to older adults to discuss their personal Medicare situation. The Society partnered with the University of Colorado School of Pharmacy to provide drug reviews and counseling for individuals who needed help enrolling in a prescription drug plan.
The Society, as a stakeholder, continues to be a strong voice for older adults in Colorado. In 2017 and 2018, Governor John Hickenlooper and the Legislature considered eliminating or reducing the Senior Property Homestead Exemption. Seniors were encouraged to contact their legislators and express their concerns. When the Homestead Exemption was discussed during 2018 Joint Budget Committee discussion, the Committee voted to keep the Exemption.

In 2018, The Society collaborated with the Colorado Senior Lobby and the Strategic Action Planning Group on Aging to sponsor a forum on August 14, 2018 at the Police Protective Association, Denver to hear more from homeowners who would be affected if changes were made to the program.

About 200 older adults voiced their concerns with 82 individuals returning the survey on the future of the program. Based on the survey, older homeowners believe it is very important to keep the Exemption as currently structured.

During early fall, The Society mailed a similar survey to over 25,000 households statewide regarding the Exemption to determine the importance of the Exemption and if the public believes there should be any changes. A total of 274 older adults responded.

The comments received in the surveys tell a story of older adults not being able to keep up with the cost of living and increased taxes based on higher real estate values when living on a fixed income. For some, downsizing or moving is often not an option with the higher real estate values and the ten-year residency requirement to receive the exemption.

Key Survey Findings

- 73% reported the exemption is very important and 80.6% want to keep the exemption without changes.
- Although 73% of participants responded to being homeowners only 61% received an exemption for 2017.
- The majority or 65% of the respondents over age 75 report the Exemption is very important. Of those, 20% were between ages 76-80; 24% were between ages 81-85, and 21% of those over age 85.
- When asked if the Homestead Exemption has to be changed, how would the participant like to see the program change, participants preferred the following:
  * 35% responded to eliminate the 10 year residency requirement
  * 19% responded to redirect money to other senior services
  * 16% responded to increase renters assistance
  * 12% responded means testing/income cap
  * Other suggestions given were around the subjects concerning lowering resident requirements and portability, and increasing the exempted property tax cap.
- When asked if participant’s supported changing the current exempted property value of $200,000, what value would you suggest, participants responded:
  * 25% said increase to $250,000
  * 30% said increase to $350,000
  * 21% said increase to $450,000
Bernie Schmeits accepts the 2017 donation of a $2000 check from the Joint Coalition to provide hearing aids and eyeglasses for low income older adults. The Society was awarded $3000 for 2018 to assist with rides to doctor’s appointments, pharmacies, and grocery stores.

More than $156,000 was raised as matching funds through Make A Difference Day contributions from dentists, audiologists, and optometrists serving 43 people. The Society is required to raise matching dollars to provide hearing and vision services.

200 Holiday Baskets are ready for delivery to low income older adults in the Denver area. More than 100 volunteers help to sort, pack and deliver the baskets. Hundreds of volunteers bring donations of food, gifts and cash to make this a special day for many persons who do not have anyone with whom to celebrate the Holidays.
